THE SECOND
FRENCH EMPIRE

By Dr. THOS. W. EVANS. Edited by Dr. E. A. CRANE.
Illustrated. 8vo. Ornamental Cloth, $3.00 net. (In a box.)

Dr. Evans was the American dentist who aided the Empress Eugénie in her escape from Paris after Sedan. He was a personal friend of the Emperor, and paints an intensely vivid, human and touching picture of the fallen great people and of the times.

Dr. Evans was intimate not only with the Emperor and Empress, but with all the celebrities who came to the French court. He was always a guest of honor at all the grand functions, and describes everything with a minute faithfulness. The book is of great historical interest and value.

OUTSIDE THE LAW

By JAMES BARNES. Illustrated. 12mo. Ornamental Cloth,
$1.50

This is a detective story written from a novel point of view. A great crime has been committed, bank robbery, forgery, and possibly murder. The detectives fail to see any of the evidence and give up the case. They even go so far as to state that no crime has been committed. The conduct of the whole affair is left to the man who is chiefly implicated. He endeavors to work it out with the aid of the daughter of the man who has been accused of the crime and the man himself.

HARPER'S NEW PUBLICATIONS

Land Ho!

By MORGAN ROBERTSON

In "Land Ho!" the reader will be delighted with Scotty, an original old salt fallen through force of circumstances to be deck-hand on a barge ignominiously towed in and out of New York harbor. Even in this limited sphere, many are the vicissitudes of Scotty's life, and every adventure is both exciting and mirth-provoking. Humor and pathos are mingled in pleasing measure in these refreshing stories of the sea, which bear out Mr. Robertson's reputation as a teller of capital sea-yarns.

The German Struggle for Liberty

By POULTNEY BIGELOW

Author of "The Borderland of Czar and Kaiser," etc.

A new volume (vol. IV.) of this notable history, giving a spirited narrative of the stirring events in Germany during the years 1844-1848, culminating in the declaration of Frederick William IV. and the meeting of the German National Assembly at Frankfort. The similar character of the revolutions in Vienna, Munich, and Berlin is shown, and the growth of the influence of the laboring classes, and of socialist doctrines under Engels and Marx. The volume is worthy of being the fourth in a series which has been so well received, and is now complete from the battle of Jena, in 1806, to the rebirth of the national spirit in 1848.

Vol. IV. (Uniform with Vols. I.-III.) Illustrated. $2.25 net.

The Principles of Money and Banking

By CHARLES A. CONANT

Author of "A History of Modern Banks of Issue."

One of the creditable features of Mr. Conant's work is that he treats the progress of the gold standard as an evolution rather than a victory for a faction. The thread of evolution running from the beginnings of the use of cattle as money down to the perfected coin of modern times is one of the special themes. The fact that Mr. Conant has had a large part in framing the policies and measures which have established the gold standard in the Philippines and Panama, and confirmed it in the United States, applies to his work the touchstone of experience and should give to it an essentially practical character.—Bankers' Magazine.

MEREDITH NICHOLSON'S

The House of a Thousand Candles

BY the terms of his grandfather's will, Jack Glenarm, globe-trotter, was to spend one whole year in a strange candle-lighted palace by an Indiana lake. If he left his place of exile, all the money would revert to a beautiful girl, whom he had never heard of before. If he should marry the beautiful unknown, the estate would go to charity.

So Jack gave up his dreams of foreign travel and started west. Then things began to happen to him in a hurry. They did not cease happening for some time thereafter. And a girl in a red tam-o'-shanter led him the liveliest love-chase imaginable.

The House of a Thousand Candles is a novel of romance and adventure, of love and valor, of mystery and hidden treasure. It will set your pulse a-beating and hold you fast by its entrancing charm.

The HEART of LADY ANNE

By AGNES and EGERTON CASTLE

Authors of "Rose of the World," "The Pride of Jennico," etc.

Here is what "might be called 'A Tale in Porcelain' of a taming of a shrew."

"Shrew, no doubt, is too harsh a name for so dainty a piece as my young Lady Anne. Taming, again, is perhaps an overweighty word to paint the conflict of hearts and wit—full of anxiety at times, but always of courtesy."

With four full-page illustrations in color by ETHEL FRANKLIN BETTS, and decorative title-page, initial letters, chapter titles, and end papers by FREDERICK G. HALL.

Cloth, 12mo, $1.50. White cloth, full gilt, boxed, $2.50

The BLACK SPANIEL

By ROBERT HICHENS

Author of "The Garden of Allah," "Felix," etc.

"The Black Spaniel," the long story that with several shorter ones makes up this volume, is as unusual and original as the novels the author has given us previously. Aside from its compelling appeal against vivisection, the story has as its theme a most curious and realistic psychological motive growing out of the cruel treatment of a little dog, that baffles the reader and, even against his will, holds his attention to the last page.

The remaining stories are chiefly of The Desert—the fascinating background of Mr. Hichens's masterpiece, "The Garden of Allah."

NOTES IN SEASON

THE BOBBS-MERRILL COMPANY have brought out a new book by Marion Harland, who for a third of a century has been an authority on domestic and social manners. The book is entitled "Everyday Etiquette," and is a simple, but thorough treatment of the subject of conduct.

THOMAS NELSON & SONS have just brought out in their New Century Library Shakespeare's works in six volumes. These books are printed from clear, readable type on India paper and compactly bound in cloth and limp leather, making a desirable edition in both styles. The New Century Library now includes the complete works of Dickens, Thackeray, Scott and Shakespeare, and selected works of the best authors all in uniform and convenient form.

LITTLE, BROWN & Co. publish to-day "American Railroad Rates," by Judge Walter C. Noyes, of New London, Conn., an important new book on a timely subject, which treats fully the subject of rate-making and suggests a plan for federal regulation; also, "The Florence of Landor," by Lilian Whiting, whose aim in this handsome book is to suggest the living drama that was set in the scenic enchantment of Florence during the period of Landor's life in that city from 1821 to 1864. They will publish next week George Wharton James's new book, "In and Out of the Old Missions of California," with about 150 illustrations.

JOHN LANE COMPANY have just ready a work entitled "The Singing of the Future," by D. Ffrangeon Davis, with an introduction by Sir Edward Elgar, the object of which is primarily to assist vocalists in their artistic studies, and enable them to understand and appreciate the influence of the brain upon vocal interpretation; "The Poems of William Watson," a collection made by the author of his poems to date, edited by J. A. Spender, a critic of the highest standing in England; also, "Jane Austen's Sailor Brothers," by J. H. and Edith C. Hubback, describing the adventures of Miss Austen's brothers, Sir Francis Austen, Admiral of the Fleet, and Rear-Admiral Charles Austen.

HARPER & BROTHERS have just brought out "The Principles of Money and Banking," in two volumes, by Charles A. Conant, a prominent New York banker and author. The scope of the present work carries the reader from the beginnings of exchange, when cattle and fragments of metal passed by tale or weight, down through the origin of coinage and the birth-throes of modern banking to the complete mechanism of money and credit as they exist to-day. The subject of banking principles is treated with a fulness based upon long study of the banking systems of the world, and Mr. Conant supports his abstract reasoning by many historical illustrations. Mr. Conant's work as member of the Philippine and Mexican monetary commissions has enabled him to give his book great practical as well as theoretical value. They have also just ready the fourth volume of Poultney Bigelow's "The German Struggle for Liberty," in which he gives a spirited narrative of the stirring events in Germany during the years 1844-48, which culminated in the declaration of Frederick William IV., and the meeting of the German National Assembly at Frankfort; and "Land Ho!" a new volume of sea tales by Morgan Robertson, himself for many years a sailor.

The plot concerns few people. Malory Dwight, a fine specimen of country manhood in search of a nurse to tend his dying sister, meets Barbara, the heroine, escaping from a travelling circus where she has been a palmist and has done conjuring tricks for her adopted father. She wins the hearts of the most heterogeneous characters with most of whom religion is a very real thing. Barbara's reverent, religious mind and her old career as palmist war constantly and lead to many fine discussions with her neighbors. Several very amusing characters cheer the story.

The poems are arranged in chronological order; and the notes are biographical and literary, relating each poem to the events in the author's life out of which it grew, and to the characteristic forms of art in his own career and that of his great contemporaries, Wordsworth and Tennyson. This method of study has been tested for a long time by the editor in school and college classes, and with general readers, and has been found to be stimulating and rewarding. The only poems not given entire are "Pauline," "Paracelsus," and "Pippa passes."

The story is laid in the 50th year of the Christian era. The author has transferred to the Isthmian games some details of the proceedings at the great festival of Olympia. He keeps closely to what is known or at least probable although he pleads the license allowed to the exigencies of fiction. The chronology of St. Paul's life is uncertain, but the author thinks the date he has chosen is accepted by authoritative writers.

The author is the actuary of the New York Legislative Committee for the Investigation of Life Insurance and an acknowledged expert in the science of insurance. His book is intended for all those who hold or contemplate life insurance. It speaks plain truths and does full justice to the merits of life insurance and it also deals unsparingly with the evils and defects of the system. The book is the result of twenty-five years of close and assiduous practical study and observation.

A story of every-day life in a New Jersey village. The Carrols, an impoverished, easy-going Southern family, have lately arrived and get all they want, living wholly on credit. The chief "debtor" is the handsome father who knows nothing with which to earn a penny except a song and dance learned from an old darkey. Unknown to his family he often disappears "on business," and always brings home a little much-needed money. How it all turns out is too good to tell. The love of one of his daughters saves the father and she is at last provided for by a tradesman on whom the family has looked down.

This is the first instalment of a work to consist of twelve volumes by twelve different writers, each of them chosen as being specially capable of dealing with the period which he undertakes. As its title imports this history will primarily deal with politics, with the history of England and after the date of the union with Scotland, Great Britain, as a state or body politic—notice, however, of religious matters, and of intellectual, social and economic progress will also find a place in it. Each volume, while forming part of a complete history, will also in itself be a separate and complete book, will be sold separately, and will have its own index and two or more maps. This v. 10 is the first of the 12 vs. published.

The coming of a Japanese boy to Annapolis, sent there by the Mikado just before the Russo-Japanese war, is the opening event of a story of boys life at the Naval Academy. The young Japanese has for a room-mate Dunston Browleigh, and between them a fast friendship springs up. The outbreak of the war takes both boys to the East, where they meet with the most exciting adventures, including some daring exploits in submarine boat warfare.

The author of "My Lady of the North" and "When Wilderness was King" has now written a story of a French officer in the Pontiac conspiracy in the Indian war of 1763. There are four pictures in colors by the artist, acknowledged among the greatest illustrators of the Colonial period. The historical background of the French and Indian war is accurate in details.

Phillips, D: Graham. The deluge; il. by G: Gibbs. Indianapolis, Ind., Bobbs-Merrill Co., [1905. O.] c. 5+482 p. D. cl., $1.50.

A story of frenzied finance which lays absolutely bare the financial dilemma into which this country has drifted. The author describes the very heart of our life to-day with its bold energies and passions, the swiftest and intensest human life ever lived by the human race. The love story running through it divides the interest with the business plot.

An exhaustive work on Antarctic discovery, telling of the expedition that sailed "farthest south" in 1901-1902 and spent two years below the Antarctic Circle. Many important discoveries were made in the sciences of geography, botany, etc., and wonderful accounts are given of the new lands, mountains and glaciers seen for the first time by civilized man. A very important feature of the book is the account of all the other voyages that had been made to those regions and a detailed account of all the discoveries of each expedition. Dedicated to Sir Clements Markham, the "father of the expedition."

- Thorpe, Francis Newton. The divining rod: a story of the oil regions. Bost., Little, Brown & Co., 1905. 5+356 p. D. cl., $1.50.
A realistic story of the oil fields in their early days, dealing with the discovery, development and exploitations of oil, how it all led to lust for gain, unscrupulous methods to acquire money, the squeezing out of the small concerns by the larger one and by the "legitimate methods" so well described in the tale. A story of home life and family devotion lightens the sombreness of the pictures of man's love of money, which is here shown to be indeed the "root of all evil," revealed in the plot.

Thwing, Eugene. The man from Red Keg; il. by Walter H. Everett. N. Y., Dodd, Mead & Co., 1905. 4+431 p. D. cl., †$1.50.

The scene is the same as that of the author's "The Red Keggers," somewhere in the farming and lumbering regions of Kentucky. A young printer comes to the little town of Midland and soon makes himself felt in the affairs of the town and in its social life. He soon comes into opposition with the talented but unprincipled "editor" who has been a power. The printer exposes some rascally swindles and begins a work of reform in the district.

Weyman, Stanley J. Starvecrow farm. N. Y., Longmans, Green & Co., 1905. c. '04. 6+429 p. 12°, cl., †$1.50.

The scene is rural England in the rugged North: the time a few years after the Battle of Waterloo. It is the story of an elopement, but the eloping heroine does not marry the man with whom she elopes, but the one from whom she flees. The reader's sympathies pass from one character to the other and the interest increases to the last unexpected surprise.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

NOVEMBER 4, 1905.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

Publishers are requested to furnish title page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers and librarians depend on the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY solely for their information. The Record of New Publications of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is the material of the "American Catalog," and so forms the basis of trade bibliography in the United States.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

LOYALTY IN SERVICE.

MUCH of the success of a merchant depends upon the loyalty of his assistants. By loyalty we do not understand so much a defense of the reputation and the standing of the house one works for as the service that is rendered to it. It must be sufficient for the employee that his employer conducts his business on business principles, fairly and honestly. To be loyal to such an employer is an easy matter. If the employee knows that his employer is dishonest, and that he expects him to condone and recognize his crooked methods, and his conscience troubles him, let him get out and seek employment elsewhere, unless he wishes to become an accessory to fraud. In either case it were politic not to advertise the actions of his employer either by open accusation or innuendo. Time will take care of the wrongdoer; and even if he be overlooked by fate, the employee who flings mud at his past or present employer will get little thanks for his efforts.

Everything else being equal, loyalty to one's firm consists in the faithful fulfillment of every duty that may arise in the day's task—in giving a full labor equivalent for what wages are expected. Much too often the employed strive to give as little as possible and get as much as they can in return. If such shirks could actually compare the services that produced what they received with the work they themselves did for it, it might bring a greater feeling of responsibility, and more desire to work as if they themselves were actually producing the good things or good work received in exchange.

Every clerk should feel his responsibility to this extent, namely, that he is acting in the place of his principal; that, inasmuch as he proves himself acceptable to the patrons of his house by attentive, courteous and intelligent service, he is bringing glory upon the house he represents as well as upon himself. If he is alive to his responsibilities he will be as alert to protect the interests of his co-workers as his own by advice and assistance in their duties and perplexities as well as by his example.

The faithful and loyal employee will stand at his post so long as duty claims him, will perform his duties conscientiously unwatched, and will take as much pride in what his firm achieves as he will in his own individual performance. Such a worker will not have worked in vain, whether recognition comes to him early or late—or never at all.

THE appointment of Mr. Charles A. Stillings as Public Printer is the result of a most thorough and painstaking endeavor by the President to obtain the best man available for the place. To fill a post which involves the oversight of business amounting to $7,000,000 a year and the handling of some of the most difficult problems in the country, at a salary within $5000, is an almost impossible task, but it is to be hoped that the result of this appointment will justify the President's expectations. Mr. Stillings, though still a man of middle age, has had wide experience in printing—his father being one of the best-known printers in Boston—and latterly he has had a wide range of experience as the secretary and executive of the Printers' Board of Trade, which is quite a different organization from the Typothetae and of different purpose. The President consulted men in different parts of the country as to possible candidates, absolutely independent of political consideration, in seeking a man who would be, first of all, an honest administrator of the affairs of the Government; and it is to be hoped that he has found in Mr. Stillings the right man in the right place. Mr. Stillings was cordially commended by the leading printing houses of New York for the post, and there is general belief here that he is certainly one of the best, if not the best man, who could be had for the money and the public service involved. It is to be hoped that, should Mr. Stillings succeed in a difficult task, Congress will make the compensation of the post adequate to its responsibilities and difficulties.

A NATIONAL PHILANTHROPIC PUBLICATION COMMITTEE.

ANNOUNCEMENT is made of the organization of a national publication committee in the field of practical philanthropy and social advance—a distinctly American idea. Its first work has been to merge Charities of New York, and The Commons of Chicago, and hereafter they will come out as a combined weekly publication, from the office of the Charity Organization at 105 East Twenty-Second Street, New York City.

From its inception Charities has stood for progress in organized effort for bettering conditions, while The Commons has been an exponent of the settlement movement. Their editors, Edward T. Devine and Graham Taylor, will be associated in the editorship of the joint undertaking. Professor Taylor is head of the Chicago Commons, one of the foremost neighborhood centres of Chicago, and director of the Chicago Institute of Social Science and Arts of the University of Chicago, and a trenchant writer on economic problems. Dr. Devine is director of the New York School of Philanthropy, Professor of Social Economy at Columbia University, and President of the National Conference of Charities and Correction.

The Publication Committee has been organized along unique lines—similar to those which have crystallized reform movements in practical philanthropy—such as The National Child Labor Committee, the National Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, the National Consumers' League, and the like, and will co-operate closely with these bodies. Like the Tenement House Committee which brought about housing reform in New York, its appointment comes from the Central Council of the New York Charity Organization Society. Robert W. de Forest, president of the New York Charity Organization Society, is chairman of the committee. Other members are Jane Addams of Hull House, Chicago, author of "Democracy" and "Social Ethics"; Daniel G. Gilman of Baltimore, president emeritus of Johns Hopkins University; Joseph Lee, vice-president of the Massachusetts Civic League; Robert Treat Paine, president of the Associated Charities of Boston; Margaret Dreier Robins of Chicago, a leading member of the Women's Trade Union League and of the Inter-Municipal Committee on Household Research; S. W. Woodward, president of the Associated Charities of Washington, D. C.; Frank Tucker, vice-president and manager of the Provident Loan Society of New York; Arthur F. Estabrook, Boston, John F. Moors, Boston, and Robert S. Brewster, New York, men of affairs and broad philanthropic interests; Jacob A. Riis, author of "The Making of an American," and others equally well known in this field of work.

The working plan of the committee includes a much more broader field than the issuance of a journal. It includes the undertaking of important pieces of social investigation, the issuing of special numbers on some one social problem—such as the "Slav," "Italian," "Negro," "Juvenile Court," and "Smaller Cities"—the extension of the spirit of organized philanthropy to the smaller cities; the initiative, in the absence of other suitable agency, in bringing into practical realization the general interest in any special field; the correlation and publication of the results of investigations; and the general education of public opinion as to the needs and advance in the underlying conditions of American communities. The venture is more or less of a co-operative undertaking.

AN ART WORK AT $15,000 THE SET.

IN a suit brought October 31 in the New York Supreme Court by William A. Cooper, the fact developed that certain persons had arranged to publish photogravures of various paintings now in the galleries of New York's art collectors. There were to have been fifteen volumes, to be sold at $1000 a volume.

Cooper asked the court for a permanent injunction restraining William G. Gray and Maud Hegger from disposing of certain photographs or carbon copies of paintings made under the terms of a contract which Cooper had entered into with Merrill & Baker, the publishers.

Cooper asserts that he made a contract with Merrill & Baker to make photographic negatives of pictures which were to be reproduced in a work to be edited by John La Farge. Among the paintings so photographed, he declares, were paintings in the art galleries of George Vanderbilt, T. M. Davis, of Newport; Perry Belmont, George Gould, A. A. Pope, the late John Hay, Senator Lodge, Sir William Van Horne, Mrs. Jack Gardner, P. A. B. Widener, and the late William L. Elkins. The plaintiff adds that he employed Gray to make carbon prints from the negatives and that "Gray did appropriate to his own use carbon prints on glass."

Cooper also charges that Gray sold many carbon prints of Millet's "The Sower," a picture valued at $25,000, to the defendants, who did business under the name of "Hegger," at 288 Fifth Avenue, and to Fischel, Adler & Schwartz, of 313 Fifth Avenue, New York.

They, with the other persons named, were ordered by Justice McCall to show cause why a permanent injunction should not issue. In the meantime the court granted a temporary injunction.

HARMSWORTH INVADES AMERICA.

SIR ALFRED HARMSWORTH, the London publisher, has opened a New York office at 150 Nassau Street, in charge of C. Murray and N. H. Dubbs, and proposes to begin a campaign for a subscription book known as the "Harmsworth Self-Educator." Other lines of books are to be added to this publishing venture, we understand, should the proposed undertaking prove successful enough to warrant such an extension. A heavy advertising campaign will begin shortly, it is said. Incidentally, there is a belief that Sir Alfred intends to invade the American magazine field, either with a selection from his sixty-five British publications or new ones adapted to this country.

STILLINGS PUBLIC PRINTER.

ANNOUNCEMENT is made that the President has appointed Charles A. Stillings, of Boston, Public Printer of the United States, the appointment taking effect on November 1.

Mr. Stillings has resided in New York for a number of years as manager of the Printers' Board of Trade. He is thirty-two years old and has been engaged in the printing business for sixteen years, having entered the printing office of his father, the Griffith-Stillings Press, in Boston, when a boy. For a time he was employed as manager of the Washington Printers' Board of Trade, and while there devoted himself to a study of conditions in the Government Printing Office, of which he now becomes head.

Mr. Stillings, it is said, was appointed without regard to political influence, although the assent to his selection of the Massachusetts Senators, Lodge and Crane, was obtained by the President. He was also endorsed by numerous large printing houses, including Theodore L. DeVinne & Co., Rogers & Co., of Chicago and New York; the Methodist Book Concern, the Mudge Press of Boston, and others.

The father of Mr. Stillings is a well known citizen of Boston and was Adjutant-General on the staff of the late Gen. Blackmar when the latter was commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic.

GEORGE P. ROWELL RETIRES.

GEORGE P. ROWELL, the veteran advertising man of New York City, retired from active business on October 31, and on the evening of that day was the guest of honor at a dinner in the Astor Gallery of the Waldorf-Astoria, given by some two hundred of his friends among the advertising men.

Mr. Rowell is sixty-eight years old. He is the founder and publisher of Printer's Ink; president of George P. Rowell & Co., advertising agents at 10 Spruce Street; ex-president of the Sphinx Club, an organization of advertising and newspaper men, and publisher of "The American Newspaper Directory."

Five speeches were on the programme, but after they had been delivered impromptu speeches by friends were heard until far into the night. Artemas Ward spoke of Mr.

Rowell as "The Sage of Spruce Street," Frank Presbrey as "An Advertising Agent," Frank B. Noyes as "A Publisher," H. B. Harding as "A Medicine Man," and Mr. Rowell spoke himself as the dean emeritus of his advertising brethren.

CHANGE IN THE ENGLISH RAILWAY BOOKSTALLS.

THE greatest change in the English book trade which has, perhaps, ever taken place will be the transfer shortly from W. H. Smith & Son to Wyman & Sons of the whole of the railway bookstalls on the London and North-Western Railway and the Great Western Railway—some 300 bookstalls. Travellers on these roads will no doubt miss the time-honored name of the great Strand firm, whose admirable system has been such a great convenience to the public for over half a century.

"It is impossible," says the London Publishers' Circular in noting the change, "not to recognize the very bold nature of the step taken by the Messrs. Wyman, and great interest, and not a little anxiety, is felt by booksellers generally as to what Messrs. Wyman's policy will be. Will they, for instance, give the public 3d. in the shilling discount on new books? We understand that, at any rate as far as the Great Western Railway goes, the Messrs. Wyman also take over the railway advertising, quite a great business in itself."

BOOKTRADE ASSOCIATION.

BOOKSELLERS' LEAGUE.

THE BOOKSELLERS' LEAGUE will give a dinner on the evening of November 8 at the Aldine Association. Among the speakers will be Dr. W. A. P. Martin, for many years connected with educational matters in China. All who desire to attend must notify Francis Gilman at Charles Scribner's Sons, by November 7th at the latest, as no room at the tables can be reserved after that date. All members who have not yet received their copies of the "History of the Booksellers' League" are requested either to call for them at once or to send a ten-cent postage stamp to Charles A. Burkhardt at E. P. Dutton & Co.'s, 31 W. Twenty-third Street, New York.

COPYRIGHT MATTERS.

PLAY PIRACY A CRIME.

THE first conviction made since the new copyright law was amended by Congress, to make plagiarism a crime, came in the United States District Court at Keokuk, Ia., on October 29, when the jury reported that it had found James L. Glass guilty of producing for profit a play called "Way Out West," on which Dick Ferris, theatrical manager of Minneapolis, holds the copyright.

Heretofore authors and playwrights have been unable to present evidence sufficiently strong to convict. The maximum penalty for conviction under the statute is one year, but the jury recommended clemency.

COMMUNICATIONS.

AS TO CHARLES F. AHLE.

To The Editor of The Publishers' Weekly.

DEAR SIR: In your issue of the 28th inst., page 1109, you have headline "Smart Set Agent Forfeits Bail;" then follows "Charles F. Ahle, the solicitor for Fads and Fancies;" at the close of the article you say: "Counsel for Colonel W. D. Mann, publisher of Town Topics declared that Mr. Ahle was not a solicitor for that publication."

My counsel declared, and I have declared in my own columns and in interviews with the newspapers repeatedly, that Ahle was not only not an agent or in any way connected with Town Topics, but that he was not an agent or solicitor for "Fads and Fancies," a work produced by Town Topics. I can hardly understand how in fairness you could have published the head line and the statement at the beginning of your paragraph in view of this well-settled fact that the man who was arrested for an attempt to blackmail Mr. Post was representing some publication other than either Town Topics or "Fads and Fancies," and that he was not and never had been in any way connected with my publications and was not known to me, has never been seen by me or his name heard by me until his arrest. As an organ of publishers and necessarily taken as having force and influence your paper, I feel, should do me the justice of publishing this communication.

Respectfully yours,

W. D. MANN, Editor.

NEW YORK, October 31, 1905.

OBITUARY NOTES.

HENRY BAILLIÈRE, the well-known French publisher of medical books, died October 6, after a short illness, at the age of sixty-five. He was the youngest son of J. B. Baillière, who was president of the Committee on Organization of the Cercle de la Librairie in 1847, and he and his older brother, and, later, their sons continued until his death their important publications of medical work and works of natural science. He also had been a member of the Cercle de la Librairie since 1866. His funeral was attended by a notable gathering of professors, physicians, scientists and professional brethren of the publishing and bookselling trades.

BIBLIOGRAPHIC NOTES.

DODD, MEAD & Co. will publish this month the 1905 volume of "American Book Prices Current," recording the books sold at auction from September, 1904 to September, 1905, edited by Luther S. Livingston. The edition will be limited to approximately the number called for, and not more than 100 copies will be printed in excess of the number actually subscribed for by November 15.

THE BANKS LAW PUBLISHING COMPANY, 21 Murray Street, New York, has begun the publication of a semi-bibliographic publication entitled American Law Times. The first issue, dated September-October, 1905, contains four brief articles relating to some aspect of the law, comment by the editor, H. B. Bradbury, book news and reviews, etc. The journal, an octavo, will be brought out bi-monthly at one dollar the year.

WILLIAMS & NORGATE, London, have just brought out a helpful contribution to the bibliography of incunabula in a work entitled "Printing at Bresica in the Fifteenth Century—a list of the issues," prepared by Robert Alexander Peddie. The list is founded on that contained in Proctor's "Index of Early Printed Books," and is intended to contain a note of every book known or believed to have been printed at Bresica. Mr. Peddie notes 281 publications by twelve printers, three doubtful titles, and eight books heretofore wrongly attributed to the press of Bresica. An index of authors and their works is also appended. The work is opportune in view of the announcement of a new edition of Hain's great work. (30 p. fol. bds.)

BUSINESS NOTES.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS.—George H. Kent, for the past ten years the active member in the firm of Charles W. Sever & Co., has purchased from the estate of the late Charles W. Sever the entire interest in the business. The estate having requested that the use of the name of Charles W. Sever shall be discontinued, the business will hereafter be continued in the name of George H. Kent.

CHARLTON, IA.—Rea & Beem, booksellers, have been succeeded by Engelbretson & Manning.

HURON, S. D.—Lake & Bump, booksellers, are selling out.

SPRINGFIELD, O.—Stallman's Bookstore was burned to the ground in a fire which destroyed the entire business section of Springfield recently.

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—Jonathan G. Wynkoop died at his home here two weeks ago, aged eighty-one years. He was in the book business in Syracuse from 1845 until 1870.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—John H. Wills has been obliged, owing to continued poor health, to close out his Literary Shop at 506 Eleventh Street. The stock will be sold at auction. A catalogue is now in preparation.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

THE STITT COMPANY, New York, has just brought out "The Strange Story of the Quillmores," by A. L. Chatterton, with illustrations by Edgar J. Taylor.

"FRANKLIN IN HISTORY," by William MacDonald, announced by McClure-Phillips for publication this season, has been postponed, and will not be brought out until next spring.

THOMAS WHITTAKER will publish shortly a fully illustrated volume entitled "St. Helena, the Historic Island," by E. L. Jackson, who treats exhaustively of the island and its use as a place of detention and exile for notable state prisoners.

THE REILLY & BRITTON Co., Chicago, announce that the first edition of "Roasts," by W. M. Rhoads, a companion to "Toasts," was practically exhausted by advance orders. A second large edition is in press and may be expected shortly.

HURST & Co. have just brought out inexpensive reprints of "In School and Out," and "Rich and Humble," both by Oliver Optic. The book may be had in the Cambridge Classics, the Laurelhurst Series and in the Young America Library for Boys at prices ranging from twelve to eighteen cents net.

THE SMART SET PUBLISHING COMPANY, New York, has published a new historical novel by William Le Queux, entitled "The Czar's Spy," and deals with that side of Russia's methods which has always been considered her strongest side, and which has obtained for her so unenviable a reputation in subterranean diplomacy.

THE CENTURY COMPANY will publish shortly "Zal," subtitled "An International Romance." It is the story of a Polish pianist who comes to New York poor and a stranger and soon becomes the rage of musical America. Rupert Hughes, author of "The Love Affairs of Great Musicians" and "The Real New York," is the author.

L. C. PAGE & Co. have just brought out "Cathedrals of Northern Spain," by Charles Rudy, which completes this year's volumes in the Cathedral Series, one of the most popular series issued by this firm. Mr. Rudy is a resident of Madrid, and is correspondent for Paris and London papers, as well as for the well-known art magazine, The Studio.

JOHN MURRAY, the senior of the famous English publishing house, gave a few weeks ago a very interesting dinner at Prince's Restaurant, London, to celebrate the majority of his son, John Murray Jr., or John Murray v., as he may now be called. The whole of the staff of the Albemarle Street house were present, and many of the literary friends and connections of the firm.

D. APPLETON & Co. will publish on the 10th inst. Dr. Thomas W. Evans's interesting story of how he saved the Empress Eugenie, entitled "The Second French Empire," edited by Dr. E. A. Crane; "Outside the Law," a detective story by James Barnes, which made a sensation by the novelty of its plot when it appeared as a serial in McClure's Magazine; also "The Reptiles," by H. W. McVickar, a posthumous novel, illustrated by the author.

MRS. FRANCES ALEXANDER, who has translated from the Italian the more than 120 miracle stories and sacred legends which comprise the volume entitled "Il Libro d'Oro," (just brought out by Little, Brown & Co.,) is in her ninety-third year. She is the mother of Francesca Alexander, whose "Story of Ida" and collection of Italian legends published under the title of "The Hidden Servants," are widely known. Mrs. Alexander resides in Florence, Italy.

HENRY HOLT & Co. will publish at once "Loser's Luck," a novel by Charles Tenney Jackson, a new author from California, in which the "dagoes," who are proverbially pictured in literature and the drama as "foolish people," have their innings and become decidedly formidable, the result of which is, then, as the publishers' "readers" assure "some fighting that they think could hold its own with the best in literature." They will also bring out at once "The Peter Newell Mother Goose," a book originated by Miss Carolyn Sherwin Bailey, who has fitted these well loved rhymes of children into a clever setting, in which Mother Goose characters do amusing things never before chronicled.

DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & Co. will publish on the 10th inst., "The Tree Book," by Julia E. Rogers, with 350 photographs by A. Radcliffe Dugmore and sixteen colored plates. It will not only be a practical guide, but will deal comprehensively with the care, growth and protection of trees, the uses of wood, practical forestry, the life of trees and, what is more important for the layman, in short, tell how to know the trees. They will publish at the same time "New Games and Amusements," by Meredith Nugent; "Ferns and How to Grow Them," and "The Country House," by E. C. Holtzoper. Oliver Bronson Capen's sumptuous book, "Country Homes of Famous Americans," announced for publication last week, has been postponed a week on account of the inserting of the elaborate full-page half-tones.

McLOUGHLIN BROTHERS have this year a veritable treasure in "McLoughlin's Christmas Annual," edited by Matilda Blair. The book is bright and cheerful in get-up, and generous in contents—in fact it is made up of three or four books, the matter being classified under the headings of "Christmas in Story," "Christmas in Song," "Christmas Games" and "Historical Tales." They have also recently brought out three useful collections by the same compiler, entitled "Wee Pieces for Wee Speakers and Some Older Children," "The Ideal Speaker for Young People" and "The Nonpareil Reader and Speaker." These books will be welcomed by teachers and parents for their fresh material graded for all ages. Each volume is illustrated and attractively printed and bound.

TAYLOR & CARPENTER, booksellers of Ithaca, N. Y., have secured the exclusive sale of the few remaining copies of Mrs. Henry A. St. John's profusely illustrated volume of "Wordsworth for the Young," which was published several years ago, and is now practically out of print. "Wordsworth for the Young," with Mrs. St. John's introduction for parents and teachers, has received highly complimentary notices from foremost educators in this country and England. Letters commendatory, testifying to the usefulness of the book, and its attractiveness to the children, have been received from President Jacob G. Shurman, Professor Hiram Corson, Professor Edward Dowden, Professor William Knight, and other noted students of Wordsworth's poems. The few remaining copies are reduced in price to $1 a copy, net.

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY have just ready a work entitled "In the Heart of the Canadian Rockies," by James Outram, which treats of those mountains for more than a hundred miles from Mt. Assiniboine to Mt. Columbia, embracing the highest peaks and the grandest scenery in North America; also, "Willy Wind and Jock and the Cheeses," real children's stories of the good old sort, by the Duchess of Buckingham and Chandos, with illustrations in color by J. S. Eland. They will publish shortly a work on the "Civil War and Reconstruction in Alabama," by Prof. Walter L. Fleming of the West Virginia University, a study of the political, social and economic effects of the war and reconstruction upon institutions that existed before the war; also, Miss Marie Van Vorst's new novel, "Miss Desmond," which is described as "a delicate, perceptive study of feminine human nature."

J. B. CARRINGTON, 14 West Twelfth Street, New York, for many years associated with the editorial department of Scribner's, and well known as an amateur photographer of exceptional skill and artistic judgment, has prepared several new illustrated lectures, among which are "American Illustrators and Their Work," including methods of reproduction in black and white and colors, illustrated with more than 100 lantern slides, many of them colored, from the work of famous illustrators; also "Days in the Open—Walks in the Fields and Woods," with upwards of 100 beautifully colored nature studies. All the slides used in these lectures are made and colored by Mr. Carrington from his own exclusive negatives. He has in preparation a lecture on the "Picturesque Aspects of a Great City," with some unusual views of New York, including a number of remarkable photographs taken at night.

MOFFAT, YARD & COMPANY have just ready "Drawings in Black and White," by Howard Chandler Christy; "The Story Bible," by Margaret E. Sangster; "The Ugly Duckling," Centenary edition, by Hans Christian Andersen; "Stork's Nest," by J. Breckenridge Ellis; "First Steps in a Child's Life," a series of five lithographs in ten printings, by Jessie Willcox Smith, and "Large Half Lengths," a set of colored lithographs by Howard Chandler Christy. Next week will come "A Corner in Women," by Tom Masson; "Aesop's Fables," a modern edition, with illustrations in colors by J. M. Condé; "The Christy Calendar;" "Pictures from Longfellow," four large lithographs in ten colors by W. L. Taylor; "The Penfield Calendar," an automobile calendar in rich striking colors and the new set of Cartoons in colors by Howard Chandler Christy. These will be followed by "Cameo Heads," a new set of color pictures, by C. Allan Gilbert.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS have just ready "The Princess Priscilla's Fortnight," by the author of "Elizabeth and Her German Garden," the story of a princess who runs away from a little German court and takes refuge in an English village, told with much humor and graceful sentiment; "Mrs. Brookfield and Her Circle," by Charles and Frances Brookfield, a brilliant and amusing book of gossip and anecdote of some of the famous people in England in the middle of the eighteenth century, with twelve photogravure portraits; "The Crown of Pine," by A. J. Church, a spirited story of adventure based on historic fact and placed in the time of the Apostle Paul, with attractive illustrations in color; also, "Sir Joshua Reynolds, First President of the Royal Academy," by Sir Walter Armstrong, author of the admirable "Life of Gainsborough," published last year, and the greatest living authority on his subject, with 46 full-page illustrations in half-tone and four photogravures.

JOHN LANE COMPANY announce a collection of articles on theosophical subjects by Ethel M. Mallet, entitled "First Steps in Theosophy," an attempt to express some of the broad outlines of theosophical teaching in a simple manner; also, a sumptuous volume on Mohammedan architecture and decoration in Western Europe, by Albert F. Calvert, entitled "Moorish Remains in Spain," with 80 color plates, 200 black and white illustrations and 200 diagrams. They also announce two juveniles—"Lilliput Revels and Innocents' Island," by W. B. Rands, edited by R. Brimley Johnson, a dozen little plays in verse, with illustrations by Griselda Wedderburn; also, "A Year of Songs for a Baby in a Garden," by W. Graham Robertson, four collections of children's songs brought together for the four seasons, with illustrations by the author. The first edition of "Heretics," Gilbert K. Chesterton's original and entertaining criticism of his contemporaries, has been completely exhausted, and has gone into a new edition.

B. W. HUEBSCH, 150 Nassau Street, New York, will publish at once two books of interest to the music lover in "Beethoven, the Man and the Artist, as revealed in his own work," and "Mozart, the Man and the Artist, as revealed in his own work." Both books were compiled and annotated by Friedrich Kerst, a noted German musical writer, and have been translated into English with the consent of the author, and edited with new introductions and additional notes, by Henry Edward Krehbiel, the well-known writer and critic, who has verified all the references and amplified many of the annotations by means of the rare documents in his possession. In these volumes are gathered the utterances of Beethoven and Mozart on the important events of their lives, their views of their art, estimates of other composers and opinions of their own works, religious views, etc. These are classified under such chapter headings as "Concerning Art," "Chips from the Workshop" and "Love and Friendship," and each quotation is followed by a statement of the source whence it is taken and the circumstances under which it was said or written. These books are, in all but the sordid details of life, autobiographies.

THE ARTHUR H. CLARK COMPANY, Cleveland, O., announce two hitherto unpublished works. One of these is a "Personal Narrative of Travels in Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, and of a Residence in the Illinois Territory, 1817-1818," by Elias Pym Fordham, edited by Frederick Ogg, author of "The Opening of the Mississippi." The book is an interesting contribution to the literature of local and pioneer history. It is illustrated with facsimiles of the author's sketches and plans. The other work is entitled "Audubon's Western Journal, 1849-1850," and is an account of the experiences of John W. Audubon, son of the famous ornithologist, in the company of Colonel Webb's expedition to the gold fields of California. The work contains a biographical memoir by the author's daughter, Maria R. Audubon, and is edited by Professor Frank Heywood Hodder of the University of Kansas. There are also reproductions of original drawings, a portrait and folded maps. They also announce a reprint of the rare work entitled "The Present State of the European Settlements on the Mississippi," by Captain Philip Pittman, (London, 1770,) also edited, with introduction, notes and index, by Professor Hodder.

DODD, MEAD & COMPANY will soon publish "My Life: a Record of Events and Opinions," by Alfred Russell Wallace, who is recognized as one of the leading scientific men of the day. To him belongs the distinction of having separately formulated a theory of evolution which is substantially the same as Darwin's. The autobiography of a man who was prominent in the great scientific movement which brought to the front Darwin, Huxley and Spencer, who preceded these men and outlived them, is a notable addition to the biographical books of the season. Wallace's command of facts, his power of generalization, and the freedom of expression everywhere apparent will delight intelligent readers. They will also bring out shortly "Minutes of the Committee of Safety of the County of Tryon, from the First Meeting in the Palatine District, 24th of August, 1774, to the 24th of November, 1775," edited and annotated and illustrated with portraits, views and facsimiles; "The Cambridge Press, 1639-1692," a bibliographical account of the first printing press established in English America, together with a list of the Issues of the Press, by Robert F. Roden; also "The Declaration of Independence, its History," by J. H.

Hazleton, who has based his work entirely upon original sources.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & Co. bring out today one of the most humorous books of the year in E. Boyd Smith's "The Story of Noah's Ark," describing old Noah's experiences in building his great ship and his trials in getting its passengers aboard, in a series of twenty-six colored illustrations overflowing with humor, while the brief text, by its dry and solemn tone only serves to increase the fun; "Sidney Lanier," by Professor Edwin Mims, of Trinity College, Durham, N. C., and editor of the South Atlantic Quarterly, who presents the first complete and adequate life of the man who is fast coming into full recognition as one of the finest and truest of American poets; "Songs of America," by Edna Dean Proctor, author of "The Mountain Maid," a collection of upwards of thirty poems, many of which have not before been published; "The Chief American Poets," edited by Curtis Hidden Page, giving the best work of the greater American poets, with biographical and critical notes and a full reference list, planned primarily for college and university courses in American poetry or American literature; "Rhode Island, 1636-1905," by Irving B. Richman, formerly a member of the Iowa legislature and for five years U. S. Consul-General for Switzerland, author of "Rhode Island—its Making and its Meaning, 1636-1638"; "Cities of Paul—Beacons of the Past Rekindled for the Present," by Dr. William B. Wright, who gives descriptions of nine of the cities associated with the work and Epistles of St. Paul, such as Tarsus, Tyana, Ancyra, Philippi and others; "Etna and Karkersville," by General Morris Schaff, an interesting history of two Ohio towns founded about seventy-five years ago, within a radius of twenty miles of which were born Sherman, Sheridan, Rosecrans, McDowell and five other generals, besides Senators Warner and Thurman; a revised edition of Carl Ploetz's "Epitome of Ancient, Mediæval and Modern History," translated and enlarged by William H. Tillinghast, with additions covering recent events; also "The Golden Goose, and other fairy tales," by Eva March Tappan, with numerous illustrations.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted" book-trade subscribers are given the privilege of a free advertisement for books out of print, of five nonpareil lines, exclusive of address, in any issue except special numbers, to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents a line, and amount should be inclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents a line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents a nonpareil line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

All other small, undisplayed, advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents a nonpareil line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

BOOKS WANTED.

In answering, please state edition, condition, and price, including postage or express charges.

Houses that are willing to deal exclusively on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash].

Write your wants plainly and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as not having been received. The "Publishers' Weekly" does not hold itself responsible for errors.

It should be understood that the appearance of advertisements in this column, or elsewhere in the "Publishers' Weekly" does not furnish a guarantee of credit. While it is endeavored to safeguard these columns by withdrawing the privilege of their use from advertisers who are not "good pay," book-sellers should take the usual precaution, as to advertisers not known to them, that they would take in making sales to any unknown parties.

McClure's New Books

CLast Saturday we published five books, each of which will undoubtedly have a good sale just as soon as their merits are known. These five books are extremely varied in style.

CTHE PANG YANGER, by Elma A. Travis, M.D. Cloth, 12mo. $1.50.

A strong novel with a cyclonic love story, brightened up by the grim humor of the Pang Yanger, Abijah Bead, the hero.

CI. N. R. I., by Peter Rosegger. Cloth, 12mo. Six illustrations in color. $1.50.

A reverential but daring life of Christ. Supposed to have been written by a carpenter in prison. This book created a great deal of talk in Germany and England.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT is associated with two of our last Saturday's publications.

CTOLD BY UNCLE REMUS, by Joel Chandler Harris. Cloth. 80 illustrations. $2.00.

President Roosevelt commended the Uncle Remus books strongly in his recent speech at Atlanta, Georgia.

CTHE MYSTERIOUS STRANGER and other Cartoons, by John T. McCutcheon. Large size, paper boards. $1.50 net.

Some of the best and most amusing cartoons are upon our strenuous President. The cartoons of child-life are especially good.

CBIBLE HISTORY, by Prof. X. Koenig. Cloth. $1.00 net.

New and interesting facts in regard to the Old Testament, of especial interest to Sunday-school teachers, Bible students and ministers.

A little display of these books will insure a good sale, as they appeal to so many different people.

Important Announcement

FROM all over the country we have been getting special mail orders for Professor Northcote W. Thomas' two books, "THOUGHT TRANSFERENCE" and "CRYSTAL GAZING." These two books are of tremendous importance to every one interested in psychical research. Since the foundation of the Society for Psychical Research a great mass of material has been published on such subjects as Thought Transference, Crystal Gazing, Ghosts, Mediumship, Physical Phenomena and other so-called "occult" manifestations. There have—withstanding the great public interest in these subjects—been but few attempts to sum up the evidence and make it available for the ordinary citizen who cannot find time to read the whole of the thirty volumes published by the Society. These new volumes by Professor Thomas are of intense interest, dealing sympathetically with the evidence, and shows what any man without bias in either direction may regard as proved.

THOUGHT TRANSFERENCE. Cloth, 12mo, $1.25

CRYSTAL GAZING. Cloth, 12mo, $1.25

The Little Books on Art

This series forms an exquisitely artistic little library of art. Daintily bound, nicely printed and copiously illustrated, they are practically indispensable to the art lover.

These books are monographs in miniature, containing the complete outline of the subject under treatment and rejecting the minute details, the controversy, and the elaborate criticism which might justly find a place in a long book.

These books are produced with the greatest care. Their charm of form, their literary excellence, their many illustrations, and their low price have ensured their wide popularity. Each volume consists of about 200 pages, contains from 30 to 60 illustrations, including a frontispiece in photogravure, and is published at $1.50.

The following volumes are now ready :

They all praise "Chronicles of the Little Tot"

WE are receiving more than a bushel of praise from critics, newspapers, literary men, and the public generally, about "The Chronicles of the Little Tot" by Edmund Vance Cooke. It is rare—as publishers well know—to have such a cordial reception given a volume of verse; but Mr. Cooke's quality of verse is rare and the public eagerly purchase and treasure his charmingly sympathetic child-talk and tales of the lovable "Little Tot."

Mr. Leigh Mitchell Hodges, the well-known author of "The Great Optimist," writes us as follows:

"I've just spent an hour with Mr. Cooke's 'Chronicles of the Little Tot'—about as enjoyable an hour as I ever spent in Modern Poetryland. I have laughed out loud and cried to myself. The delicious humor of 'An Arbiter of Titles' and 'The Moo Cow Moo;' the exquisite imagery of 'Throwing the Shoe' and the simple beauty of 'The Intruder' struck me immensely."

"But why didn't you put the last five poems in a book by themselves? Of all the present-day verse with which I'm familiar—and I've read a ream or two—I cannot recall five poems that approach these, and I am quite content to wrap 'The Little Boy Who Left Us' in the lavender of love, and lay it away with 'The Dandelion,' 'The Chambered Nautilus' and 'Little Boy Blue'—my prime treasures—Americana. IT TOWERS ABOVE ADJECTIVES: IT PASSES WORDS IN ITS SURE JOURNEY TO THE HEART."

"After re-reading the whole book, and reading the last five poems probably six times, I AM EVEN MORE ENTHUSIASTIC THAN I WAS FIRST. Please send me two copies of the book at once. I want to make two friends happy."

LEIGH MITCHELL HODGES.

39-41 CHAMBERS STREET, NEW YORK

COMPLETION OF THE American Catalog 1900-1905

The Second (or Supplementary Volume) nearly ready

We are now completing the printing of the second volume of the new "American Catalog, 1900-1905," which will be ready for delivery in November.

The first volume, issued in June last, is a complete record in itself, being a dictionary-catalog of all books recorded between January 1, 1900, and January 1, 1905. In its one alphabet every book is entered at least three times (by author, title and subject), with information as to size, price, publisher, year of issue, etc. It forms the latest addition to the old series of the "American Catalogue," published in quarto form, while the newest volume is an octavo, which is generally conceded to be a much handier shape. We can reasonably affirm that every dealer needs such a permanent catalog in his business, while every library of importance should have this standard bibliographical work on its shelves, since its usefulness in the world of books is on a par with a time-table in the railroad world.

The second, or supplementary volume, contains the full title entries, with annotations, given in the "Weekly Record" of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY during the five years 1900, '01, '02, '03, '04, cumulated into one alphabet for each year; that is, into five alphabets. This is planned to answer the demands of librarians, booksellers and others who wish this valuable material, in available shape, for classifying and describing and for permanent reference.

For the book dealer the second volume is a very useful record of book valuation. It gives in form for ready reference brief descriptive notices of the important books published during the period mentioned, describing concisely the contents of each work and explaining many titles which, in themselves, mean little or nothing or are misleading. For descriptive cataloging, a bibliographical work of this kind is almost priceless.

The two volumes are uniformly bound in half morocco. The price is $12.00 for both or $7.50 for either separately. The edition is limited, but 240 copies of the first volume and 145 of the second volume remain unsold. We reserve the right to advance the price when the balance of either is reduced to 100 copies.

Two Unusual Books

FOR CHILDREN

By LUCILE LOVELL

“ANDY”

THIS is the greatest book of its kind since “Fauntleroy,” and appeals to children and grown-ups alike. No one can resist Andy. He is an unusual boy, and the account of how he won a place for himself is an unusual story, told with delicate pathos and rare humor.

“The WALCOTT TWINS”

THE funniest book about children since “Helen’s Babies.” The twins look just alike, and when they mischievously change clothes and the girl goes to the house of a bachelor uncle, while the boy visits a maiden aunt, there are side-splitting complications. A wholesome, jolly story, and a universal favorite.

READY NOVEMBER FOURTH

A SOLDIER'S TRIAL

AN EPISODE OF THE CANTEEN CRUSADE

BY GENERAL CHARLES KING

WE take pleasure in announcing the above for publication. The author has been engaged some time in the preparation of this new novel, resulting in one of the best of his many splendid stories. He has woven into the plot a very powerful argument in favor of the restoration of the "Army Canteen," illustrating same from actual scene and incident.

In view of the present widespread discussion of this vital question, the book will appeal to all who have the welfare of our army at heart.

It is a stirring tale of army life on the frontier, and General King, an officer who has served over forty years, draws a vivid picture of the contrast between the days of the Canteen and those that followed its abolition. Were there no other interest involved the book would merit careful reading and reflection on this one point alone that so deeply affects the happiness and contentment of our boys in blue, but the story is also exceptionally strong in character and life. General King has even surpassed his already high standard of literary merit in this, one of the few really readable "novels with a purpose."

Terms of Payment on Both Regular and Special Offers

Terms are always subject to special agreement, but in general they are as follows:

On sale for 90 days: all copies sold at the end of that time to be paid for, cash in full, pro rata, the remainder to be returned to us at our expense immediately thereafter, either upon receipt of our request or at the option of the dealer. If further pictures are ordered before the end of the 90-day period, the first lot is to be paid for before the shipment of the new lot. Prices and terms on which new lot may be furnished are a matter for future agreement.

Packing: The pictures are regularly put up in flat pasteboard boxes of 100 pictures each, 95 Sepia and 5 black, or 100 in full original colors, besides two mounted pictures for display purposes.

Window-Display: Dealers are urged to give the pictures a prominent and continuous window-display.

$100 Orders: Dealers who are selling the pictures well are urged to let us ship them in lots of 1,000. We pack the 10 boxes of 100 pictures each in a neat wooden box with sliding cover. The whole occupies only two cubic feet of space. We prepay the express and all unsold pictures are returnable to us at our expense (as stated above). The profit is then 150% on every retail sale, instead of 66½%.

Sample Copies: A sample in sepia or black will be sent in a mailing-tube, to any address in the world, on receipt of 20 cents in stamps (of any country); in full original colors for $1.10.
